

ABSTRACT

Power-efficient, pulsed driving of capacitive loads to controllable voltage levels, with particular applicability to LCDs. Energy stored in a portion of the capacitive load is recovered during a recovery phase. Time-varying signals are used to drive the load and to 5 recover the stored energy, thus minimizing power losses, using processes named adiabatic charging and adiabatic discharging.

0938941-0383E60